CLASSIC WINDOW SEAT

A particularly fine Late George III example (Circa 1785 - 1790) was the inspiration for Classic Chair's craftsmen to produce this wonderful copy. Although the original is English, it does have a French look as well, and could be used in almost any interior, sometimes used as an end of bed stool, sometimes as a hall bench. Each harebell flower, swag drape, flute, patera and leaf is individually hand carved with exactly the same precision as the original. The squab cushion, covered in your choice of fabric, is filled with feather and down stuffing and is reversible.
